Introducing the future of precision shooting. Meet Flex PRP, the ultimate target pistol. Engineered for precision. Designed for performance. And built to let you take control of your shooting. A precision-engineered barrel ensures consistent accuracy, shot after shot. A sculpted grip for unparalleled balance, comfort, and control, keeping you steady under pressure. This 1911 grip angle will be very familiar to many shooters. With Flex PRP, you have options on how you run the pistol. The charging handle was designed to give you total control. Whether leveraging the Hi-Viz optics or adding your own, this pistol was optimized for advanced optics, making precision at any distance achievable. The sight attaches to the barrel, not the sleeve. You can remove the barrel and sleeve without adjusting the zero. Lightweight yet rugged, with components treated for all elements. Flex PRP is ready for the range or the field. The future of target shooting is here. Are you ready? Flex PRP. Redefine Your Range.
